

Example 1 on page 412 uses population pyramids to describe the distribution of ages in the United States and in Brazil. How do the two distributions differ?

